In the media

Dear Readers,

October has been an impactful month for the Inclusive Society Institute as we continue to champion the principles of inclusivity, social cohesion, and active citizenship.

Highlights include the successful hosting of our annual Youth Leadership Camp, where over 50 young leaders from the Cape Metro and Cape Winelands came together under the theme Active Citizens Serving South Africa. This camp empowered future leaders with tools to make a meaningful impact in their communities.

Our ongoing Taking the Constitution to the People project brought enlightening workshops to learners in Tshwane West District, fostering deeper connections with South Africa's constitutional values. Such programs are pivotal in nurturing a generation of informed and engaged citizens.

This month also marked the release of significant publications, including Managing Social Cohesion in Diverse Communities: Lessons from Finland and The National Dialogue: Pathway to a People's Plan for South Africa, each offering critical insights into building a more unified nation.

We were also featured prominently in the media, with articles in leading platforms like Daily Maverick and Mail & Guardian, spotlighting our efforts to advance dialogue and inclusivity.

Thank you for your continued support as we work toward an inclusive future.

Warm regards,

Daryl Swanepoel
